Background

- Tax planning is an effective and legal way to reduce the tax outflows of a taxpayer within the given tax and legal framework.
- The Income-tax law in India offers various incentives and deductions to the taxpayers depending upon the nature of business, industry, nature of income earned. Often such benefits are available for a block period of certain number of years.
- Tax planning is a specialised and customised service delivered to the tax-payer, wherein the taxpayer, while remaining in the limits of laws, reduces his overall tax liability and hence the cash outflows.

Tax planning offerings

- Tax planning is not a separate service in itself, but it is specialised deliverable rendered while providing other specified tax services.
- What we do?
 - Assist the clients in tax planning, to optimise the tax liability within the legal framework.
 - Advise on selection of the tax-saving investments and designing ways to gain maximum benefit under the applicable tax laws for resident and non-resident taxpayers.
 - Many times, statutory authorities bring various amnesty scheme etc., so we advise clients in taking benefits of the said schemes in proper and tax efficient ways, so to minimise tax outflows and also to avoid the tax litigations, which are very time consuming and also costly.
